

Down here. It's still standing. My house's across the road across the road from this house. It was a log house, and I was born there. And during the strip payment then, they built this new home. And I was seven years old when they moved to it. I can remember it. I can remember it just strip payment too. I had an awful good memory but. . . .

(And you were born in 1888?)

1888. That'd make me now 80 years old.

(And you've seen here all the time?)

Yes, right down there where I was born and raised. And it's across this road, this road goes to the river, and. . . .

(Well, you've seen a lot of changes here, haven't you?)

Yes, I have. And then I married Jonathan Parris. This old house, old Duncan house down here, we were married there. It's still standing. That was 1907.

(Was that RedCloud Duncan's place?)

No, it was an old Rev. Duncan. Rev. Watt. . . and Rex was his father, grandfather. They didn't have any people. And Bob Duncan's relative to Rev. Duncan. He was the one married us, the last ceremony he performed.

(He was an Indian preacher too, wasn't he?)

Yes, that was the last ceremony he performed. He died that fall. After we married.

SCHOOL - MORE ABOUT GROWTH OF PARKHILL

(Did you go to the Female Seminary?)

No, I didn't get to go. They had it in Tahlequah then. I wanted to go. But I went to the Baptist Mission, and then Presbyterian over here.

(Well, the old Baptist Mission, that was in Tahlequah, wasn't it?)

Yes.

(Is anything still left there?)

Well, that's where the high school is. But I never get around much anymore.
