

(And I guess in early Adair, people kept cows and chickens here in town?)

Oh, yes. We used to have two cows and we did our own butchering and we kept maybe fifty, or seventy-five hens and never thought about milk - bought milk. And we never had no refrigerators then and but we didn't have electricity like we do now.

End of Side B