

(Where was the Indian Territory Court House for this district?)

Down here on Cabin Creek. Well, they had name for it. They'd have a court down here on the creek, y'know. If they'd stick the guy there, they'd transfer him over to -- over to, --

(Saline was it)

Over in Arkansas there, oh--

(Oh, Ft. Smith)

Ft. Smith, yeah. They'd go to Ft. Smith.

(Then they had another district court house over there at what they call Saline Court House)

Yeah. But the same thing, transfer 'em over to Ft. Smith some way or nother, I don't know jest how they did it. I never did pay much attention to it. They were _____ over at Zena. Their first court house was ever over in that district. That was the Coo-wee-scoo-wee district. Father built that school, that Court House. I don't know whether that old Court House still there yet. I'm gonna drive over there some of these days.

MATERNAL GRANDFATHER CIRCUIT PREACHER

(What was your Daddy's name?)

George

(George)

Everybody call him Uncle George and Aunt Martha, my mother.

She 'us a Parks. And old Grandpa Parks was a circuit preacher.

Jest rod round preachin all time. And he raised a big family.

Went all over. He was from St. Louis he rod round, he settled over here, close to Zena on Cabin Creek. There were that big spring is, some feller built on that old house where he lived. Some wagons from
