

and I look at you--examine you. And I say you got it right here. It really pain there all right, that's true. Then I take that and put it over that and then I take my mouth and I put it over that thing. And then I'll suck it. Then I'll take it out (remove tooth). That's way the witch doctor doctors (speaks Kiowa)

NOT ALL DOCTORS WERE ALSO WITCHES

Jenny: Let me say this.

Cecil: Her father was a doctor.

Jenny: My father is a doctor but he said he didn't believe in the witching people cause that's against... If someone was to witch you, which been asked of him to witch certain person, just like hatred or something like that. But he said he don't want to never do that because if you witch somebody, if you take somebody's life, you just witch them to kill, someone in the family you would have to give up to die too. "And that, I don't want that to happen in my family," he said. "I love my family and I don't want to witch nobody and I just don't want to do that. I don't want to. I don't believe in that," he said. "Because I want my childrens to all grow up and--because if I'm going to do that--which I heard some other witches talk about," he said, "They don't care. They don't. They get paid for to witch somebody and then they have to give up somebody in their family, too. It's not easy thing to do that," he said. "So therefore," he said, "I don't believe in that. I don't want to ever witch anybody to hurt somebody." Now, I thought that was nice of him.

(It was.)

Jenny: Yeah. But he doctors. He gets peoples well. He really can doctor pneumonia.
