

he knows. Oh, he knows it all. He knows just what's up there. Now if the sun comes out--the sun comes out in the evening and if it's red, when that sun come out and it's red, tomorrow's a bad weather. If the sun--I mean when the sun goes down and the clouds are bad red he said, "Watch out. Watch your children. Don't let them go far away from the camp because we're going to have bad weather." Wind--blizzard. When the sun comes out and when the clouds are red looking here they say we're going to have good weather.

(Is that in the morning?)

Cecil: In the morning.

Jenny: He gets me mixed up. See, we have that story and he tell about that Burning Star.

(I want to hear about that.)

Jenny: So you can have it on one.

(Yeah, all together.)

Jenny: What did I say?

MORE ABOUT STORY OF BEAR GIRL

(Well, you were talking about how they used to be together in camp and there were the kids.)

Jenny: It's pretty near like the other story. Anyway, the girls, everybody went out to play, you know. And this girl--they were sisters. And this girl somehow--long time they say when you're gonna--there's something always talk to you to become a medicine man or maybe a medicine woman. They believe in anything--idols. And I always say maybe it's devil spirit gets them that way and they believe so strongly, they just go that way. So this girl, I guess something been bothering her. Wanting her to be this way and
