

up there in that room, why they went to rentin the house, lettin people live in it. And it come on down till Tom and his wife come back there and lived there as long as they lived there. When they passed away, why we went to rentin' it again y'know cause standin out there jest by itself, it was apt to burn y'know or sompin happen to it. somebody broke into that room up there and (not clear). So we begin to go in there then and take out what we wanted to keep so I guess it.

(End of Tape)