

carried her--on their back. They take her on down there.

And when they come to that place, they were playing what they call "bear"--"bear trick." (Gives Kiowa name of this "bear" game.) That means a bear, that kind of game they play. ^A seityæ yw

They come over there with that girl. There was a lot of girls over there. They had a game. They run over there where them other girls is sitting down. And them girls, they got something over there, I don't know. They got some kind of sand and they-- (Kiowa) "You run over there and you pick them up and then you run and they chase you. (Speaks in Kiowa.)

(Granddaughter explains the sand is molded and you run over there and pick up that sand and you run with it and that's that bear game.)

And they pick up sand. Some kind of sand they got over there, and they run. Then they chase him. When they chase him that's what they call a bear--"grizzly bear." One of them fierce bears--Bad bear. So they were playing that. So this girl, they got busy, they were playing and they let her off. She ain't suppose to touch the ground, but they let her off.

So she sit down there on the ground. Them other girls are busy and they don't pay attention to her and she breaks the rule.

She sits down there on the ground. And while that's going on, they run back and forth, like that. Some of them girls would run down there and pick up that sand. When they pick it up, they touch it. Pick it up. Run. The other ones down there, they chase it. That's the bear's way. And I don't know what they do, maybe they bite him, I don't know. I think they bite him. So they're playing that way and that girl is sitting down there on the ground. She ain't suppose to touch the ground. So pretty soon, you know, this boy, this girl's brother,
