

her an Indian name.

(What does this Dèhâ mean?)

Jenny: Dèhâ, I don't know. It means something like--dèhâ means, well let's say a Texas woman. A woman that's from Texas. You know, other nationality. That's what it means.

(What was the Kiowa word for Texas or did they call it?)

Jenny: Dèhâ.nì--they always called it dèhâ.nì. Dèhâ.nì.

(Dèhâ.nì)

Jenny: Yes, that's Texas. Yeah, and that's a great thing I think Black Bear done.

Cecil: I made them. I made these but she lost several. That's all silver.

(That's beautiful.)

Jenny: Yeah, that's silver.

Cecil: Yeah, that's Jenny's. I made that.

Jenny: I lost the other one. I don't know where it's at. I don't know where I put it. He could make one to match it.

Cecil: I could make it any way you want it. I make it out of money. I don't fool with that other. That's all money, dime and quarter. I used to do that all the time. That's Jenny's but she lost the other one.

Jenny: I don't know where I lost it. Pretty, isn't it?

(It is. Where did you learn how to make that?)

Cecil: I just--

(Just picked it up?)

Cecil: Oh, for this kind of work, you don't have to have training, or drawing.

(Well, that's really nice.)
