

and he had a cigarette in his mouth and running around there and every one of the boys in the rest period was smoking.

(Hmm.)

And they had smokers built in the schoolroom. Anytime you put anything like that and your stamp of approval in it, you know they're gonna do it. So I don't know when to quit well either. But when they tell me they're dying of cancer if they smoke 'em and they're smoking before 'em, why it's not sure 'not setting an example. And the women went to work and they some of them made a lot more money than the men did. And they left the kids to the babysitter's and they--they lived on tranquilizers. I've got five dollars and I'll swan I can take an aspirin and get better results than they can from all the tranquilizers they've got. And they live in a--in a time when ah well, nothing became sacred and holy. It was all lost and--and men began just gradually shifting the responsibility of the family to the wife and the wife has shifted it to the babysitter.

(Yeah.)

And the babysitter just let them go wild. Now, I believe, there's where our trouble was started. You didn't--you wasn't alone. But today, it's ah I you the word "love" is a word that nobody knows. I don't believe they do know it. They just scratched it out.

(Yet that encompasses a lot of things that a lot of people don't understand.)

No sir, they don't. Someone asked me when I (words not clear). She said well, I think a friend is somebody that will stay with you through thick and thin. I said even though you disagree with 'em they'll stick to you from there. But you don't find that--very many friends like that no more. ---A loaf of fresh bread or a--

(Right.)

Or a, here, I baked bread today and I thought you could use it. Now if you want
