

cook that dried meat and then they'd pound it. Pound it good with some fat in it. And I don't know, they'd put it in a sack and then they all--each one of them, get ready like that for their own. So when they get ready, they go and my grandpa take from there. He starts out. He takes the young men with him and he just know which direction to go and where. And they going to stop for the night, well, he's there. They said he's a good worker, too. And a good advisor. He was just an all-around man. When the enemy, whenever they see a enemy, well, he just know what to do.

STORY ABOUT BLACK BEAR GETTING HIS WARRIORS TO SAFETY WHEN THEY WERE OUTNUMBERED

Jenny: So one time they start out like that and then they run into some enemies--Indians. And so they kind of got onto them. There was a whole band of Indian mans, you know, and these were just a few of them--maybe twelve of them. They went out. So they kind of got on them. And my grandpa, he told the boys to just follow him wherever he goes, to follow him. Don't try to get out because there's too many mens out there. And they were shooting with arrows and so they followed him and there was a little kind of a little mountain, I guess. Not too big a mountain. He said, "We'll all run up there and get on top of that mountain and then when we could shoot down when they try to come up to the mountain to get us, We'll shoot down." So they all ran up there and they got on top of that mountain safely. And then all the other tribe, they all gathered around that mountain. And they stayed up there and then grandpa told them, he said, "Tonight I'm gonna go down the bottom and I'm gonna look around for a place where we could get away from here because there's too many. We can't--they might kill some of us or
