

Oh, we had a wonderful ball team. We had a good second team. Frank Brown played with us. You know Frank?

(Yes.)

Frank lives in Grove. And he played with us. Gunter Duckworth and we had a wonderful ball team.

BACCULAUREATE AND GRADUATION

(Uh--Samuel J. Starr he went there before you went.)

Oh yes way before I went. I think before George did. Or along about the time my brother did. Houston Ballard graduated about 1904. I went over, they had a bacculaureate sermon over there. You know I went and uh--there's two old ladies there. One of them named Jensie Fields and I forget the other one's name. And they was up there with this graduating class. They were the first that graduated at the old Female Seminary.

(Well.)

Got the first diploma. They showed their diploma.

(My goodness.)

They settin' up there, old, old women. And I thought it was wonderful to see them old ladies.

(Wasn't that wonderful!)

With the young folks graduating. They sittin' up there with them. And they showed their diploma to the people. Dr. Phillip got the diplomas and presented the Indians that finished school. (static) (Sentence not clear)

RECALLS SOME OF THE EARLY DAY SETTLERS AND THEIR LOCATION

(That's right. Well I know in your day and age when you were a young fellow you must have known a lot of the older people that were doing alot of good--)

Oh, yeah.

(Even though they were uneducated.)

That's right.
