

(Now was it all Mustang Hollow?)

Arranged on the bank on the--

(North bank.)

It was the south bank.

(South bank of Mustang Creek.)

South bank of Mustang Creek and north of--section line.

(Part on the east side and part on the west side.)

Most of it on the east side.

(Uh-huh)

And it was more or less on a hillside. And there was a little general store there for a lot of years. A Post Office, a saw mill, and across Mustang Creek to the north on the west side of the section line. In a little creek bottom flat, creek bottom level or that area in a grove of trees for many years the old Okoee fair was held annually.

(Well the old Okoee fair.)

The Okoee fair. And the old settlers. We had lots for farming. And they'd have roping contests. And all sorts of things. You know. Merry-go-round.

(About up to what year was the town in existence?)

Well the town was in existence up around till--till, I don't know, maybe '50.

(Uh-huh)

This is sixty. '68 isn't it.

(Yes sir.)

The last house was about ten years ago.

(Ten years and an old Chief Tom Buck that lived in the section just north of there then. Section 30. (Not clear)--O-k-o-e-e.)

Right.

(Uh-huh)
