

her, or you can get it. That's Miss Brannon. She was nice. And she even bring a doctor out from town. If somebody's going to have a child this doctor--Dr. Inman--or Dr. Taylor--well, they'll come out there. And these doctors stay there till the baby was born or if somebody's sick, they'll stay. That's the kind of a job she had." Now that's what I told them. I said, "If you want to cut anything, you got a bunch of cars. Pretty nearly every department's got a car. Cut them," I says.

"Them cars don't come around our homes." Well, these doctors told me here a while back that they're going to try that field service. Yeah, they're going to try it. They're going to get one of our boys--districts--try to get boys to drive. Going to set them up with a car and going to set them up a telephone--all expenses. These Indian boys. He's going to be a chauffeur. Now he's going to have to be dependable. Maybe it'll be a doctor or a nurse. You're going to have your diagnosis right in the home, and your medicine will be with the doctors. That's what we been wanting. Some of these people, they got to horse around--like if they got an appointment they have to be down there at a certain time at the clinic. Well, nowadays, who's got time to take us? Unless we got money. Nowadays peoples wants money before they could take you. So that's the kind of problems we have. And some of these poor peoples don't have a cent. They're going to just have to stay home and suffer. Unless somebody's got a good heart and will load them up and take them to the clinic. And you have to stay there all day, because there's a lot of people over there.

LOAN FUNDS APPROPRIATED INADEQUATE FOR FARMING SUCCESS

(You know, back at that meeting in Washington that you went to --did they ever come through with more loan money?)

No. I forgot to tell you, that after that--after the conference was over--I went to this fellow. Just me and him, you know. Of course I was just a little warm, yet, from when they cut me off, but I went in there. I sat down. I brought my papers out and put them right in front of him. "This is what we want, and this is you'all's. Now--the way I feel about my people over
