

(I, guess so.)

I wasn't thinking about hitting that hog.

(Yeah)

I just happen that way. I aimed without really thinking.

(Uh-huh. Yeah)

Yeah never (not clear)

INDIANS ALWAYS HAD A GARDEN - NOT MANY ORCHARDS.

(Well the Indians always had little garden in the early day.)

Yeah they had their gardens.

(Uh-huh)

They had these patches about like mine out here.

(Uh-huh)

They had these patches about like mine out here.

(Uh-huh)

Had plant corn and they had corn all winter.

(Well)

Yeah. Now they got big farms. Don't plant no corn. They farm no corn.

(And they grow potatoes, I guess.)

Yeah they grow potatoes. Grow potatoes, pumpkins, beans, --

(Yeah)

Vegetables. They grow potatoes. Seem as if the Indians changed a whole lot.

(Yes the Indian has changed. They don't have no more orchards do they?)

Huh?

(They don't have no more orchard, no apple tree, peach tree.)

There's some I guess but that far back they had some apple tree.

(Yeah)

That far back. I don't know how it got started. Got to start from somewhere.
