

three times. I don't know what her name is now. She lives there in Tahlequah. And we were going home that night. The moon was shining bright. And if Kenny Davis wasn't there--he was right there with the group. And he was having a good time as any of them. And walked right up to Uncle Manuels yard gate. And I was scared to death. I sure didn't stay out there to find out what they might do.

(Well. Where did he roam down in there--just in those hills?)

He originated from along top of that high mountain down there close to Stilwell. That's called old Davis Mountain. That mountain right east of Stilwell.

(Yeah.)

Stilwell runs up on the side of it not. But that's where his home was.

(Well what did he do to earn the wrath of the people there?)

Well, just anything. He had a meeting or anything, when he'd get there, why he's ready to fight.

(Well.)

And if there wasn't somebody hurt--why it wouldn't be because he couldn't do it.

(Yeah.)

He was just a bandit. He was just a rough character. But that Blue Foreman he was--

(Well where was that Blue Foreman from?)

Well he--his home was right straight west of the old Administration building there at Northeastern. Over across the creek over there.

(Yeah.)

That's where it was.

(Son: Well say who was that outlaw (not clear)--?)

I don't remember.

(Son: (most of sentence not clear)--too far.)

Oh, that's Bert Hampton.
