

I can't do it. Anyway George's killed up there. Before he went up there. He was a good customer, bought lots of stuff from me. He came in the store and bought uh- several rolls of penpoints. He wanted to set something up. Lot of oil on the land over there. He did own the land. He owned me better than a hundred dollars. Which was a whole lot of money in them days.

(Yes.)

And when he got these things. He said, "Now, Wattie, I'm going up in Arkansas. And borrow the money from my uncle. And when I get back I'll pay you." Well, they went up there to rob this bank. Four of them, I believe. (Not clear) I didn't think of him 'cause he was killed. One of the fellows with them by the name of Lucee. Was a friend of George's. He told me, said, "Wattie," said, "Mrs. Price is going to sell me her team, wagon, and harness." I had sold them to him. 'Cause I knew it was a new wagon. "And quick as we make the deal. I'll come in and pay that bill. That George owes." And he did. He paid every cent of it. That was, that's been about, I guess forty years ago.

(Laughter) (Hum-m)

Yeah, I got it all. Thirty or forty years I've been in business. (Not clear) If you want to be elected would it change your (not clear) or which was it.

Lady: Yeah, treasurer, I believe.

Anyway he said, in his talk, you know. He talked broken, you know.

(Hum)

Said he was born all up and down Sallisaw Creek. He was born on Sallisaw Creek. Laughter.

(Yeah)

Right about where Sallisaw is.

(Yes, sir. (Not clear))
