

(Well a lot of them have used skunk oil.)

Uh-huh. Well, years and years ago when I was just a little kid, there wasn't too many different kind of medicines.

(No.)

No there wasn't.

NOT MANY DOCTORS IN EARLY DAYS - MORE ABOUT HOME MEDICINE

(And you didn't have many doctors around.)

And didn't have no doctors hardly. Old Doctor Campbell was the only doctor we ever had here.

(Well.)

And that would thin our blood. (Laughter.)

(Well.)

And spicewood. (Not clear) gallons of that. But you can't find none of that stuff now. Used to be along that bench there. I don't know how many trees have been (not clear). 'Course they didn't grow up so big.

(Yeah.)

But we'd go down there and get the limbs. Bring it back and make tea. And I really liked it. (Not clear) come here. After we married and come here. And stay all night and all day. And all -- .

(Well you'd learn all the news about the community. And how the other folks were getting along.)

I know it.

(New children coming into the world and old ones passing away.)

I know it.

OLD CARLISLE HOME

(Then I guess that was their way of keeping in touch too. Did you ever hear of the old Carlisle Place down in this country?)
