

And I think the old sausage mills made the stuff. This one cuts the stuff.

MUZZLE LOADING SHOTGUN

(Yeah. Isn't that interesting. That's the first time I've ever seen a gun like this.)

(Inaudible) round in this. Put the shot in there. I don't know how long he had it.

(This belonged to your Uncle Sam?)

Yeah. An uh--I've got the powder and the shot. But I haven't got the packing.

(This is really an old, old gun. Well, they don't come much older than this, do they? (Inaudible) We've never seen something like this back home.)

This ramrod pushed the powder down, you know. (Laughter.)

(An old ramrod. Well my goodness. Well, that's been used a whole lot, too.)

Yeah. Oh yeah.

(Well, that is really interesting. That's what they hunted their birds with, I guess.)

Uh-huh.

(Game. All kinds.)

I don't believe they killed their quail like that.

(Yeah.)

Quail. (Inaudible) I don't think they killed them.

(Well.)

They shot squirrels, you know. They hunted squirrels.

(Yeah.)

There's plenty of squirrels here.

You didn't have to kill--