

Back over this way.

SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES

(That Rocky Mountain School is farther on.)

Uh-huh. They have a nice school there. Uh--you know, to (inaudible).

Not entirely. There's four project teachers there, I think it was.

(Is there an Indian school there? And a church now?)

There's a church there. Just a church, uh-huh.

((Inaudible) that Cookson family located?)

Jess: "Oh, let's see, down in that--Most of them was across the river from where the--You know where Cookson is?"

(Yeah.)

Jess: "Well, it's on down on the lake, across the lake. Most of them, Cookson family was."

(Yeah. Well, there was a lot of those Cooksons, wasn't there?)

Yeah.

(Not all of them were church members, were they?)

Jess: "Pretty tough, some of them." (Laughter.)

(Yeah, I guess some of them were pretty tough.)

Yeah. I knowed them. I guess.

COOKSON - OTHER OLD FAMILIES

(And I guess Cookson Hills was named after that family, too?)

Jess: "Yes."

Had a settlement, Cookson. Along about here. A long, long time ago (inaudible).

(That Cookson. And wasn't it spelled with a T in there?)

Uh-huh. I think I have seen it somewhere where they spelled Cookston.

(Well.)

'ston'.

(But they all just spell it just Cookson now.)

Cookson now.
