

That was his name. I don't--I can't recall his--

(And her folks--was that Uncle Edgar and--what was her mother's name?)

Oh! The little girl's. I didn't get through, why you went and cut me off.

This little girl's name was Doris Maker, and her father was Edgar Maker and her mother was Helen--Helen Scott of Fairfax (24). And this little fellow here his folks--

(You told us.)

I done told you about this one. Oh yes, that's the one I was lookin' for.

I have another picture here, it's very old picture--that's the same one.

Put it over here. I'm putting them over here. I've got two of them. This picture I have is really old picture. Now this fellow's name is--these are two full blood Osages. This man here, happened to be our close relative.

His name is Pendleton Strikeaxe (22), from Pawhuska. And his wife--later--that's the one she married West. That picture I was telling you about over ther this was the same--

(Tom West.)

Tom West. Later she become Mrs. West (12). She's the lady that they honor her with the great name. Oh, ain't this picture pretty. This picture I have--that is a picture of man lived in Pawhuska. His name was--I don't remember this man. I thought I did. It was that deaf and dumb man from Pawhuska (23). They lived on top of the hill.

(Was he Osage?)

Uh-huh. Osage. Oh, I can't hink of his name. I can't think of his name.

This nice picture. Then I have another picture here. This picture I have now is Mrs.--Miss--daughter of Mr. Roan Horse. Her name was Josephine Hamilton (24) from Gray Horse. And the other one is Helen Scott (24). She was Helen Maker and Castle. Here's that picture I was telling you--his name's Mah joka (?), he's James--Joe Red Eagle (25). And that's that little
