

(Well that's wide country through there, travel must have been hard in the early days. You traveled by wagon and horseback?)

That's right. Only way they got around. They probably done away with almost all the grade schools.

(Oh yeah they're all gone now.)

They go to town now.

(Yeah)

Times have sure changed.

(They sure have.)

EARLY DAY FARM PRODUCTS - HAY BALING

We raised corn and wheat.

(Corn and wheat.)

Maybe they have little sorghum patch, something like that. Have a little molasses from that.

(Yeah. Did they bale hay back in them days?)

Well they did, some of them did.

(Yeah)

Then lot of them stacked them just loose.

(Uh-huh. What kind of hay baler did they have then?)

Well they had one these you jumped down with your foot.

(Oh an old foot feed.)

Yeah.

(Good place to get your leg cut off.)

I never did try one of them. I did bull raking. Get it up there.

(Yeah)

Done a lot a that. Pitched to table. Never tried no baler. Used a horse or mule. Then sometime have plow setting up there riding.
