

(Well, that's a long way from here isn't it?)

Well, it was 3 or 4 days travel. The lumber tahtwas hauled in to this building up here came out of Coffeyville.

(Well)

So were the teams? Teams they had then couldn't pull very much, could they?

(No, they couldn't)

No roads.

(And you didn't have any roads.)

Pulled all spring.

(My goodness.)

I remember Dad telling about hogs, 3-cent hogs to Coffeyville. "Course the hogs didn't cost 'em anything they raised 'em on mash.

(Yeah)

GATHERING PECANS IN EARLY DAYS

They raised pecans them days it seems so funny now with everybody guarding their pecan trees. (Laughter) In those days picked up pecans when they-- that would want them.

(Yeah)

They take a crosscut saw and cut that tree down, get the pecans that way.

(And now a man's life would be indanger if he ever picked up any pecans.)

If you're under somebody's orchard tree and pick up a handful of pecans now you'd get throwed in jail.

(Yes, well, now that shows how times have changed.)

We would go pick up--what we called then a gunny sack--sackful and that done us for the winter see, and that's all we cared about.

(Now there's so many things that have changed in this last 60 or 70 years its hard to realize. Course most of it has been within my time, but a great
