

She never was around the French at all, yet, she never forgot that.

(Well.)

GRANDMOTHER WAS A MIDWIFE AND DOCTOR

(Sentence is not clear.) Many people come to her like a doctor. Many years, she would go when they would come and get her.

(Yes)

Baby came is just like she was a doctor. She'd go just two o'clock in the morning.

(Well, my goodness. What was her name?)

Her name was Mosier. She married a Mosier.

(Mosier.)

She was a Perrier on (not clear).

(Yes)

That's an old, old name.

(Yeah, that's an old French name, too.)

Yeah, it's French. They say my grandmother was a pretty good doctor because there was 12 of us kids.

(Yeah)

And she raised 11 of us. She done pretty good--her own medicine. Peach leaves and blossoms and elder blossoms and everything else she could use.

(Yeah)

She could think--of she got to know the seasons and she would--

(Uh-huh)

Gather them. She used 'em too.

(Well)

She was going to go anywhere she'd bring back a sackful of different things that she'd thought she'd need.
