(Mrs. McDaniels: I don't either.) (But this is what she calls pape? ?) (Mrs. McDaniels: Yeah, pape.) (What about this one -right here? What kind is this?) I can't tell you, my dear. I don't know. (What is this, right here?) That's a medicine (referring to little buckskin sack). You gonna have red nose. (Sack probably contains red paint.) (Eugenia speaks Kiowa) -- I wish he'd make me one so I could these in. (Mrs. McDaniels: You ought to put this one in there, too. I wonder how old this one is (shaking the bell).) (Now does that go with the buffalo medicine--that bell?) (Mrs. McDaniels: That's buffalo medicine, um-hum.) (How is that used--that bell?) (Eugenia speaking Kiowa and Mrs. McDaniels replies but hard to understand.) (Bell is being handled--makes sound. Mrs. McDaniels is probably putting things back together now.) Oh, we left one. (long pause) This is--I don't know how you call it--put That's what a coal in the ashes and burn this grass and smell the smoke. it's for. (What do you call it in Kiowa?) $\dot{\omega}$.son (sweetgrass) It's to make a smoke, this one, just like cedar. It goes with this buffalo medicine. When you're going doctor somebody you got to make a smoke and smoke them feathers like that. It smells good. (Does #hat bell go with the buffalo medicine?)
