

(Uh-huh. Yeah it's high.)

It's high. (Not clear) at least part of it.

(Oh yes.)

(Not clear). There's one down south of here. Polk ranch, it's called.

(Not clear) right here. Southwest of here. (Not clear) Joining me. Another one northwest of here. (Not clear). He's from Texas. He's got one pasture with five hundred head of cows in it.

(Hum-m.)

And he sells calves off it. He sells steers off too. He puts fresh cows on the other ranch on the other side. He's got another bunch over there. So you see why cattlemen take advantage. (Words not clear.)

(Yeah that was your father.)

(Sentence not clear.)

(Uh-huh)

When daddy owned it (not clear).

FATHER FARMED AND RAISED CATTLE - TEXAS CATTLE BROUGHT IN

(Yeah. Well did you folks have a farm out there. Or did you raise cattle?)

Well we had a farm there. He farmed and raised cattle too.

(Yeah)

Him and a fellow lived out west on my sister's place, they went down to Texas and bought up five hundred head.

(Uh-huh)

Brought them up there. In them days used to have trouble when Texas cattle come up here. You know cause fever cattle. Farmers didn't want them up here. They shot them down and killed them.

(Well)

We didn't want them up here.
