

And they run. They was tired. And they slept through the night.

(Well I guess so.)

Course I was working at night at the state hospital and I had to sleep in day-time.

(Yes.)

HONESTY AMONG PEOPLE - NO LOCKS ON DOORS IN EARLY DAYS

(First sentence not clear)

(Yeah.)

(Not clear) --things. Seem like they not much to do now. My two boys have (not clear). Up in high school. Course they were in the army a while. They went to Texas to get a job. (Not clear--much static on tape.)

Well let's see the last store would have been somewhere back in the 1950's.

I guess then?)

Something like that. Now it might not have been that long. Now Ted Long was here. I believe he was the last one out there.

(Most of them were Indians around here then when you come?)

(Answer not clear--static.)

(No there sure aren't anymore. Well I guess they were all good neighbors too, from what I've heard.)

All honest too.

(That's what I heard.)

Never had to lock the door.

(Well. Yes people didn't lock the door.)

GRANDMA TUCKER - REMEDY FOR FLU

And the flu was so bad that year. I went over there to see Grandma Tucker.

She lived across the creek there. And I said--we always called her grandma--

I said, "Grandma, what you got that cedar on there for?" She said "You burn cedar in the house you won't ever have the flu or bad cold."
