

Said they buried 'em there. They said the girl, they said to keep the dirt from getting in her face, they put a rock over her head. Now how much truth in it I don't know, but this book never could tell what become of the Benders. And that sounded kind of reasonable to be that might be the truth.

(Might be.)

And when they was making these slush pits up here for them oil wells, shallow wells. They run into four graves with a rock over one 'em. And they figured that was the Benders. Sounds kind of like it.

(Yeah, that was a long time ago, too.)

Oh yeah, its been a long time ago.

SCHOOLS IN EARLY DAYS

(What did they do for schools long time ago out in, when you folks first came up in here?)

Well sir, they just little schools around.

(Go to Vinita.)

No. Little schools out in the community.

(Well.)

May: Chapel.

Frank: This chapel here you know, I went, when I first went to school, I went about four or five miles west of here. They had a little old log house there. Had just a board to sit on, you know. They had, didn't have any glass in the window. I remember they had a bale of hay in the window, in the winter.

(Well, a bale of hay.)

I remember they had a bale of hay. The house was dark. (static) Had school for a while in Woodman Hall.

(Woodman Hall.)
