

(Surely.)

(Answer not clear)

(I guess you have seen some of those things too.)

Oh yes.

EARLY DAY FARMING CONDITIONS - SORGHUM MILLS

(There's lots of things that happen on farms that you don't see anymore.)

Don't see none of (not clear)--

(Just like shocking wheat and oats in moonlight.)

Uh-huh.

(And plowing with a double-shovel.)

Oh yes.

(And breaking ground with a Georgia stock.)

Don't do that no more. (Laughter)

No. Well you don't see any sorghum mills anymore.

Oh nor sir! We--we runned a big one. Right over there.

(You used to have a big one here?)

Yeah.

(Do they still have one over there?)

I don't know what them boys done with that. The first one died. His brother took over. I don't know what--maybe sell it.

(Well..)

Who they sell it to. But there used to be one there. Sold it in a jar--sorghum by the jar.

(Yes ma'am.)

Some of them (not clear)--

(I guess you all had hog killing.)

Oh yes. Put up lots meat.

(Put up meat for the winter.)
