

Yeah. And there wasn't many houses was there?).

Oh, no. Just here and yonder.

(Just here and yonder)

Just every once in a while you see a house. Yeah.

(Well)

And be mostly Indian homes.

(Mostly Indians)

Common place, common house.

(Just a log house, I guess)

Log house, yeah, Yes sir.

(Yes, I guess the country was kind of wild, wild game everywhere.)

Yes it was. It's there, they killed little turkeys out in them mountains used to be a world of turkeys.

(Well)

And deer. Used to be lot of deer when I was a boy. And that's all down away with.

(Yes sir all died.)

It's all gone. And you know people lived better that day. Than these people-- no worry, no nothing to bother you.

(Yeah)

They lived at home. And uh--

(Yeah they were happier weren't they?)

Happy, oh yeah. And neighbors. Boy, they was just happy. Visit one another, you know.

(Yeah)

PHILOSOPHY CONCERNING FUTURE FOR PEOPLE

And this Houston is an old, an old timer. He told my wife, said, "Mrs. Fields," said, "there's going to be a time," said, "whenever people won't need us here at all."
