

See he's a Cherokee and you are a member. He said, "I am the vine." That was my thought now. I didn't never think that before but that thought come to me. (It sure did.)

He said you- and the next thought come you pick some church that you want.

(Right)

(Words not clear) And I picked - We always had a lot of sheep. Woodland and pasture out north of us. She told me one day, said, "Jess let's get, let's go over and see about the sheep and run them back in that woodland pasture." Well went over there and dogs was in the bunch killing them. Oh the sun was getting pretty well low, late in the evening. Well we fooled with them sheep. I said, "Well let's just let them alone and we'll come back in the morning and pick them up, if the dogs haven't all killed'em. So I said I'll go home and get the horse and go over there and tell the boy that owns these dogs to keep them tied up over night anyway. Till I can move these sheep. So anyhow I went home. By the time we got there at home, and I caught my horse and tried to put saddle on it, it was gettin g dark. Left after dark. So I just took and got on that horse and rode him. And went across just a mile over, I had to through the timber. And I told this boy about the dog. "Well", he said, "he'd tie them up whenever they come in." Said, "Tie them up." So I come back the same way that I went. And you know I rode in, come down a little place and some fellow said, "Why he's silly, he's crazy." But listen come down a little path, that little dark path and I was riding a horse that was awful scary. And something made an awful racket there by the road. But that little place. And that horse never noticed it so I just come on down and as I rode down about fifty yards from that place, and there was a big white sheep come up like that and ~~passed~~ over. And course, I didn't stay there and see what had did it. So I told him to come onto the house. And course this kinda excited me right then. Then I found it in the book, says a huanted spirit before a fall. Now then she fell must have been about twelve, fifteen years ago.
