

EXPERIENCE - INDIAN BOY HAS FIXED HER WITH MEDICINE.

Well, I was goin' with this Indian boy - I had just been going with him, to be going with him, just to have something to do, I guess. I mean I wasn't in love with him or nothin' - I didn't intend for things to happen that way, but we started goin' together and then I broke off with him. And he thought, well I guess he thought, well, I guess he really cares for me. And then he went and had some medicine fixed so that I'd never, ever quit him. I'd quit him and go out with other boys or even get engaged, or even I could get married, but I would always go back to him, no matter what. Like - he's even told me that he'd get me in the long run one way or the other. And, of course, I went and had some medicine fixed and I goofed around and did wrong. What I did was - I was using Indian medicine so this other Indian boy would forget me, and then I fooled around and I went back to him, and that messed everything up and I got sick. I got real sick. I threw up and a whole bunch of stuff and had to go back and had to go back to the creek and everything - they take you to the creek to wash all the evil away, I guess you'd say. And I did that. And fooled around and went back to him again, and I'm still goin' with him, so I don't know, it must be true. I mean - you know about, if a person really wants you, one way or another they're gonna get you. And he'd always told me I'd never be free of him. He's told me that for two years, nearly. And I'm beginning to believe it. 'Course I believe in the Indian medicine anyway, but I didn't think he'd ever do me this way, but I think he really has done it.

(In other words, Vonnie, you think that he has conjured you and used Indian medicine on you to where you can't get away from him?)

Yeah, I think so. Because, well, he's even told me so I don't just think so, I know so. The guy that fixed the medicine for him was an old Indian man that lived at Stillwell - but he died and they say once a person has passed
