SIMMONS, EUGENE.

An Interview with Mr. Eugene Simmons, Woodward, Oklahoma. By - Alson J. Chase - Field Worker. August 11, 1937.

ج:

In 1894 I left Kansas in search of land; came to Oklahoma and filed on a quarter of land southwest of Woodward on Indian Creek. I did not farm my land but in the summer-time I would put up hay and in the winter would take in stock to feed.

My house was built with a sod roof but had a wood floor.

In early June of 1892 I helped take a big bunch of cattle from Quanah, Texas to Medicine Lodge, Kansas. We grazed these cattle along the way, up one creek and down another where they would have plenty of water. There were one thousand head of three year old steers and it took us four months to graze them through. We orossed the North Canadian River between Woodward and Moreland; just as we were ready to cross the river, the train came along and caused the cattle to stampede.

I sold out in 1903, and moved to Woodward, Okla-
