When I was a boy the Choctaws built a brush arbor just east of a double tree, located in Section 36, Township 3 South, Range 12 East.

Here the Indians would meet and hold their ceremonies, church camp meetings, Green corn dances, the Turkey dance and Choctaw "Cries".

An Indian names Cephus Jones, who lived on a small farm just north of this tree, states that these Indian ceremonies were abandoned about 1900.

About two hundred yards west of this double tree are two good springs of water which help make this an ideal camping place.
