

THE DAVID PROGRESS

David, Ind. Ter.,
Thursday, July 23, 1896
Vol. 2 No. 43
A. J. Blackwell, Editor

EDITORIAL ON ISPARHECHER

The wild and woolly chief of the Creeks, Isparhecher, has again come to the front with a startling command. Now he forbids the non-citizen to make improvements upon town lots. What he wants is a fearless name and he is fast getting it. He has more nerve than common sense.