OBITUARY ON ISPARHARCHER

Everybody will regret the death of ex-Chief Isparharcher, of the Creeks which took place at Okmulgee on Christmas Eve. The ex-chief was 90 years old at the time of his death, and had been prominent in Creek affairs for three score years, having took part in every treaty of importance between the United States government and the Indians during that time. Isparharcher served on both sides during the Civil War. He was a full-blood Creek, and until recently had taken a firm stand against any change in the conditions of the Territory, but for sometime prior to his death he realized the propriety of accepting the inevitable, and had since that time counceled his followers to make no further opposition. --
