

HOLDENVILLE TRIBUNE

Holdenville, Indian Territory
August 2, 1906
Vol. 6, No. 27
A. Z. Stirling, Editor

EDITORIAL ON ALEX POSEY (FUS-FIXICO)

Alex Posey, who has been at the head of a field party working in the Creek nation for some time, has returned to the government offices here, bringing with him a complete list of the official organization of the Snake Indians in the territory. This is the first time the government has ever been able to get the names of the officials of this stubborn band of Indians which has caused the government so much trouble and threatens more, because they are advised by their attorney, a lobbyist named Bolton, at Washington that the government is making concessions for them.

Mitcher Hiye (Hot Gun) is principal chief of the Snakes; Roley Taylor is second chief; John McIntosh, treasurer; John Artusse, captain of the light horsemen; John Timothy, prime minister. In addition to this list of officers, there is also a list of the Snakes who are members of the light horse organization. The light horsemen are the self-elected guardians of the peace.

The seat of the new government has been established at Old Hickory Grounds in the Western part of the Creek nation and all the state meetings are held there. A piece of red bunting tied to a stick serves as a flag and is always hung up at Hickory Grounds when the Snake government is in session. This new government was made effective less than two-months ago when Hot Gun was elected chief.

Crazy Snake, the ex-principal chief, is still the power behind the throne and the dictator of the policy of the Snakes. It is reported that he as well as the rest of the Snakes will hold aloof entirely from any participation in the politics of the new state.

Hot Gun is a character made famous by the part he is made to play in "Fus Fixico's" letters, written by Alex Posey. They have been friends for years and when Posey, who is himself an Indian and an official interpreter for the government, got among the Snakes he succeeded in getting more information about them than anyone else has ever done.

There are, all told about 5,000 Snake Indians in the five tribes. These represent the recalcitrants who have always resisted allotment of lands and embarrassed the government in every way possible to delay a final settlement; even going to the extreme of killing members of their clan who came in and took allotments.

HENRYETTA FREE-LANCE

Henryetta, Creek Nation, I. T.,
March 30, 1906
Vol. 4 No. 18
Geo. R. Hall, Editor

LETTER OF FUS FIXICO

"Well, so, long time ago, "Hot Gun he say, "all the animals had a big powwow to settle the food question, an' Es-te Lus-te, the nigger, was preside over the meetin' an' make a suggestion like this: He say, 'Well, so how it do if each one o' us consult 'is own taste an' take 'is choice?' All 'the animals was agreed to it an, give Es-te Lus-te, the nigger, the first swipe, 'an he take watermelon; Sok-ha Hot-ka, he take per-simmons; an' Wot-ko, the coon, he take crawfish; an' Chufee, the rabbit, when it com^e 'is time, he look up a sycamore tree an' say, 'Well, so the nice fruit hangin' up in this tree suit me all right.' So all the animals was choose what they want to eat an' scattered off except Chufee, the rabbit. He set under the sycamore tree an' wait for the nice fruit to get ripe an' fall. He set there an' wait an' wait till he get so hungry an' poor he couldn't make a shadow hardly. The nice cysamore fruit just dry up an' float off in the air. So Chu-fee, the rabbit, had to give it up an' go an' steal some green peas."

Tookpafka Micoo an' Wolf warrior an' Kono Harjo like to hear ol' time Injin stories an' pay close 'tention.

An' Hot Gun he smoke slow an' go on an' say, "Well, so, "same way, like the animals, all the politicians was hol' big powwow in Washington to settle the mighty issues o' the day. Uncle Joe, the big man o' the house, was pre-side over the meetin,' an Oklahoma an' Injin Territory was the rabbit after the nice fruit o' statehood on the cysamore tree."